

CASAL CATALÀ DE WASHINGTON, DC

has the pleasure of inviting you to an evening of classical music followed by a traditional cava toast to celebrate the National Day of Catalonia.

Saturday, September 11th at 7.00 p.m.
Dacor Bacon Club, 1801 F Street NW, Washington, DC,

September 11th was selected for The Catalan National Day as it commemorates the 1714 Siege of Barcelona during the War of the Spanish Succession. Institutions and rights of the territories of the Crown of Aragon were abolished by the victorious Bourbon monarchy as punishment for their support to the claim of Habsburg Archduke Charles to the throne of Spain. In 1980, the restored Generalitat de Catalunya (Government of Catalonia), as its first public act, proclaimed September 11th as La Diada, the Catalan National holiday.

RSVP by Sept. 3rd to casalcatalawdc@gmail.com

Dress code: casual

Where: DACOR Bacon House

When: Sept. 11th, 2010

Time: 7.00 p.m.